HONGKONG, MONDAY, JULY 5, 1869.

THE HONGKONG ASSOCIATION. THE Committee of the Hongkong Asso-CIATION have at length issued a report which it is intended to lay before the members at the General Meeting to be held on the 8th instant (Thursday next). Unfortunately it gives us no information whatever beyond that already made public-if we except the publication of a portion of the correspondence between the local and home Associations. It would seem a pity that the whole had not been given in the appendix, as members would then have before them in handy form a complete resumé of proceedings since their formation. Thus, we miss the first despatch informing the London Members that a local Association had been formed; the circular letter of the 24th February 1868; and the despatch of the 1st October, from the Hon. Secretary to Mr Duddell. Although the members may be acquainted with these documents, as they have not yet been presented in a collected form with later despatches, the omission on this occasion is to be deplored. Two questions present themselves for the consideration of the members at the forthcoming meeting. The one, whether the Local Association shall or shall not continue to exist; and the other, if its existence be ensured, what machinery shall be used to ensure its beneficial operation; this latter consideration involving the minor question as to the acceptance or otherwise of the resignations of the existing Committee and Secretary. Let us firstly refer to the statement put forth in the report of the Association's object, which is thus de-

This Association was formed in November 1867 for the promotion of the interests of the Colony; with the primary object, however, of endeavouring to effect the removal of the Military Contribution levied upon it; and with the further design that the steps taken to scenre this result proved successful, action should then be taken on other anbjects connected with the political organisation of the Colony.

Whence it would appear most unmistakeably that if the steps taken to secure the memorial was drawn up, ill success has attended it, not merely from the delay in presenting it to Parliament until the close of the Session, but because neither the past or present. Government can be made to see any injustice in the impost. It is almost hope-Until further notice. The time of less to attempt obtaining a concession closing the Mails to be forwarded by which neither the Government or the Opposition are inclined to make. The matter is too small in relation to Imperial or European affairs to be made a party question, and we almost doubt whether it would find more than a single seconder if brought under discussion. Inspector Kirby charged a chair-coolie with having a license which was not believed to be his own. The Inspector explained that defendant and another had chair which a gentleman wished to hire, but that the other refused to carry the gentleman and threw a stone at him (cutting his head) instead.—This man was sent down to the Registration Uffice, so that the worthy who threw the stone might be produced.

A Chinaman represented as a tailor was settled, but it must be a sine qua non observed in Gap Street, by a P. C. carry ing a spar; and when the constable stopped the individual by grasping his queue, the tail gave away. Cwing to the hazy nature of the possession of this spar, and the fact of statement of their views and arguments his tail being so slenderly attached to his and affixing it to any document forhead, said tailor was arrested. He was not warded to the Government by the majoknown in Gaol : but Mr Russell sent hin to hard labor for seven days. for two or three members, but only in fessional education has been fairly attended to is as much at home in water as on land to dash into the sea and escape by his aquatic expertness. A Chinaman was found last night in an empty house near the new Slip of Messrs M'Donald's at West Point and as he had a pair of blacksmith's tongs and a hammer in his possession, this fact was regarded as very suspicious. When defendant saw that he was observed of the Police, he ran for the Praya, jumped into the Harbor, and swam off some distance. P. C. 28 (Chinese) got a boat however, and went after him, when defendant gave himself up. -Mr May gave this gentleman two months' hard labor.

Mr Andrew Millar, plumber, appeared to answer a charge of not having paid hi chair-hire, and of having detained the chair-board belonging to the chair in question. Defendant denied the charge, said that he had offered the coolies a fair amount for their hire, that they refused and showed him a fare-ticket which he forwarded to the Ragistrar General, and that he believed that plaintiffs meant to squeeze him -Mr Russell appeared to be of the same opinion, for he fined the coolies each in the sum of $2/ or seven days' imprisonment for endeavouring to obtain more than their legal fare; and defendant was discharged. -The story of the two coolies was that they were employed from 8 a.m. till p.m. on Wednesday; and the defendant, on the other hand, stated that they were only employed from 8.30 until 11.30, viz. for three hours, for which service he offer ed them 20 cents each.

Mr Millar charged a Chinese watchman in charge of a drain now under repair on the Praya, with neglect of duty in not having lit a lamp near the drain on Saturday is in for a night, and in having left the drain un-Profirio de | watched .- Mr Hussell sentenced the watch-Souza, an officer in the Portuguese army, man to pay a fine of $3, or go to Gaol for We are not fourteen days.

THE Americans have been engaged most part of the day in recalling to mind the fact that on July 4th, 1776, America was declared to be "free, sovereign and independent." The expressions of Americans at this time are only natural, and they receive general approbation, we believe, by all who look upon their own nationality with respect and pride. Owing to the fact that there is no saluting vessel in harbour flying the flag of the United States, no salute was fired, it being against orders and usage for the English Commodore to salute. when there was no vessel to return the compliment. The U. OVER-TRAINING.

The lamented death of Mr H. Hoare, which is stated by his friends to have been in some measure due to over-training, raises again the important question whether the regimen requisite to maintain a man in the full exercise of his physical powers is injurious or not. We take it that the object of every system of training is to bring the whole body into such a state that it can Hankow, in the Customs Gazette, contains support without injury a sudden, a powerful, and a protracted strain on any or all of its organs. Nor do we see any reason why such a state a man who has arrived at the condition such a regimen pursued for a few weeks Injurious effects are only felt by those The chief inland markets for the drug who have attempted to perform severe And the rationale is easy to discern fuller, the flow through the pulmonary capillaries is accelerated, the balance between the lung and heart is re-established and what is a metimes called the " second wind" is produced. In the inadequately trained man, on the other hand, the bal ance is not re-established; the veius continue, with each muscular effort, to pour fresh supplies of blood into the already overladen heart, which strives in vain by rapid strokes to discharge its contents; the chest and lung-tissue, with the capillaries of the latter, not possessed of due elasticity are unable to play their part, and death may absolutely occur. Such immediate results may be witnessed in pursy old men or women after a run of but a hundred yards. In the young it is less apparent : but even in them, if the experiment be too ften repeated without the regular exertion implied in training, the ultimate result is not less sure : and many a man lives or dies in mature age with dilatation of the right heart and its concomitant train of ills, produced by violent exertion under taken before the several organs implicated have acquired powers adequate to the duties they are called upon to discharge The disadvantage of the system as at present pursued is, as we have said, that it is directed solely to the development of the mascular energies, whilst the cultivation of the mental powers is almost entirely overlooked. Of course, like him whose untimely fate has led to those observations. there are many exceptions: but, as a rule. our young athletes constitute almost a distinct class at school or at college, and our caramen and our cricketers and runners are too much occupied with their respective amusements to regard them in their proper light as a means to an endthat end is not the culargement of the muscles alone, but the improvement of the higher attributes with which we are endowed. There is not a doubt that in all the great towns the physical education of the young is far too much neglected. Every constitute au important part of a boy's

THE "TREATY PORTS OF CHINA & JAPAN," AND "NOTES AND QUERIES ON CHINA AND JAPAN.

EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS. (From the "Straits Times," July 27, 1868.) Some time ago we had occasion to remark upon the progress that Literature as represented by the Press had made and was making in the East, and our attention has again been called to the subject by the receipt of a Hongkong publication which deserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowleage of our readers. We allude to Notes and Queries on China and Japan, published monthly by Mr Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known namesake or prototype at home, and is equally a mine containing very curious and useful information regarding the language, literature, history, manners and customs of the Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese It says a good deal for the extent and should be established and conducted with apparently successful vigour. The publication is altogether a very interesting one, and wishing it-every success, we commend it to the attention and support of our readers.

(From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868.) We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the numbers for the current year of "Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Chinese monthly, edited by Mr N. B. Dennys, whose "Treaty Ports of Chins and Japan " are so well known. From the names attached to the "Notes" we can see that the contributors include some of the best Chinese scholars in the East. Its interest is not confined to China, and it will be of valuable assistance to all scholars, who have directed their attention towards the subject of Buddhism and its literature, and generally to all who are interested in oriental antiquities. It deserves to be better known in India.

(From the "London Examiner," May 16, 1868.)

This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports China and Japan"] is intended as a guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for mercantile men generally. It contains an account, historical and political, of all the open ports of these countries, together with Peking, Yedo, Hongkong, and Macao. It has been carefully compiled and edited by Mr N. B. Dennys; and the elaborate maps and plans, with which the work abounds, considerably enhance its value. * * * We have thus given in outline some of the more prominent portions of the chapter devoted to Canton, as a specimen of the whole volume. Other chapters treating of Macao, Formosa, Ningpo, Shanghae, and the remainder of the treaty ports, we can only enumerate. The pages describing Peking, the capital, are so interesting, and contain so much that is new to European 1.—Pilot Boats shall be registered with readers respecting its history, public buil-
